

DRIDAM to Stream on JioHotstar from June 12

The latest Malayalam crime thriller Dridam, presented by Jeethu Joseph, will begin streaming on JioHotstar from June 12. Written by Linto Devasia and Jomon John, the film is directed by Martin M. Joseph. Produced by Katrina Anne Jeethu, Mukesh R. Mehta, and C. V. Sarathi under the banners of E4 Experiments and Bedtime Stories, Dridam is set to reach a wider audience through its digital premiere.

The film follows Sub-Inspector Vijay Radhakrishnan (played by Shane Nigam), who is newly posted to the seemingly peaceful village of Kuzhinilam. His routine assignment takes a dramatic turn when an unidentified dead body is discovered in the area, triggering a complex investigation filled with mystery and unexpected twists. As more shocking revelations emerge, Vijay finds himself under immense pressure to uncover the truth.

The film features a talented ensemble cast including Shane Nigam, Shobi Thilakan, Kottayam Ramesh, Dinesh Prabhakar, Krishna Prabha, Nandan Unni, and Saniya Fathima, among others.

P. M. Unnikrishnan has handled the cinematography, while V. S. Vinayak serves as the editor of the film.

Dridam will be available for streaming in Malayalam, Tamil, Telugu, Kannada, and Hindi, allowing audiences across India to experience this gripping thriller.

Don't miss Dridam, streaming on JioHotstar from June 12.
